What is a Dodgebee?

A Dodgebee is a soft washable flying disc made with a nylon covered soft foam that is firm enough to hold its shape but still soft enough to throw and catch easily and safely.

Where did the Dodgebee come from?

The Dodgebee disc came from a simple idea. Make a durable but soft and safe flying disc for all ages that is easy to throw and catch. The game of Dodgebee came from searching for a creative way to use the disc. The popular game of dodge ball was a natural choice. Players and teachers quickly learned that the Dodgebee was safer and more dynamic than a traditional dodge ball. The Dodgebee is already wildly popular in Japan with students there. Many schools use Dodgebee regularly in their wellness classes and the game has been featured on television shows and even has its own National Championship tournament that annually hosts thousands of school children.

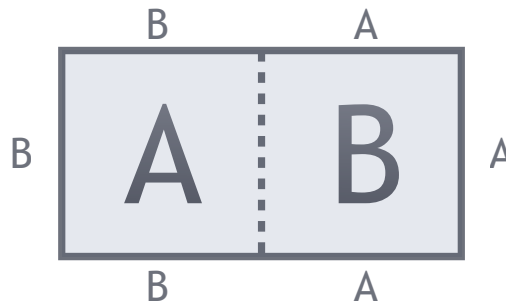

How is Dodgebee played?

The game of Dodgebee is an easy and fun game. Players use strategy, speed, and disc catching and throwing skills. There are also many variations of Dodgebee that involve problem solving strategies, teamwork and active participation. The court is 10 yards by 20 yards, divided in half. Players may not cross lines or they are disqualified for that game. There should be a referee at the center point on the side to make rulings if necessary. Outside of the court is the outfield. There are no boundaries for the outfield except staying on your side of the field. Each team may have a maximum of 13 players, with both teams having an equal number of players and at least 1 player in the outfield to start the game. Game duration is 4 minutes, with 1 minute overtimes in case of ties. Best 2 out of 3 matches determine the winning team. The object of the game is to eliminate all players from the opposing team's infield court by either hitting them directly with a throw (disc cannot touch the ground first) or they attempt a catch and drop the disc. Any player who is struck or drops the Dodgebee must leave the infield immediately and move to the outside player's area. Turnovers go directly to the opposing team. If all players are not eliminated during the allotted time, the team with the most players on the infield wins. Why are there different sizes & colors?

There are three basic sizes of Dodgebee, the 200, 235, and the 270. The different sizes and colors are geared for all age groups that offer a variety of different throwing and catching opportunities.
